

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to use of a novel gene, STR50 and to STR50 modulators in diagnostic, therapeutic and screening aspects related to neurotoxic events. More particularly, the present invention concerns diagnosing and treating neurodegenerative diseases, and screening for species which can be useful in treating the same.

10

15

20

25

30